

Hoffman v Mucci, 124 AD3d 723 [2d Dept 2015] (Appellate court upholds granting of summary judgment to Defendant-Homeowners).

Plaintiff, a UPS worker, claimed traumatic brain injuries, an inability to return to work and other associated damages after being struck in the head by an allegedly defective and dangerous door and malfunctioning piston at the Defendants' home. Despite contentions of Plaintiff's expert engineer, the Supreme Court dismissed the case upon motion. Plaintiff appealed and the Second Department affirmed the lower court's decision to dismiss the action.
